

VOTERS OF Tuscarawas County.

Remember that the election is near at hand and it becomes you as freemen, as democrats, to act as if success depended entirely on your individual exertions.

Be on your Guard

Against false reports, and slanderous handbills, which will no doubt be put in circulation by that infamous and branded liar Kirk Patrick, and the few office seekers under him. He always has upon the eye of an election when there would be no time to contradict them got up malicious lies against one or the other of the Democratic candidates, and will do it again.

Remember,

The false reports he got up two years ago about the Democratic candidate for Auditor—charging him with perjury—and for which charge Kirk Patrick was branded by a jury of his country, as a LIAR and SLANDERER, worthy of no man's belief. Also Remember the slander he got up only last year against our candidate for commissioners. These slanders he will repeat, for it is contrary to his nature to tell the truth, or act like an honest man.

Keep it in Mind,

That the Federal leaders evade the issue which they themselves presented, viz: whether a majority or a minority shall govern—and now suddenly say the question is good Banks or no banks. Do not let them deceive you; for as sure as they get the power they will repeal the redemption law, the new banking law, and the Bank commissioner law, and force upon you the same old rotten, swindling Banking system, which to your sorrow, you know has fished from the industrious people of Ohio millions and millions of dollars and put them in the pockets of a few privileged robbers who do not riot on their ill-gotten wealth.

Let none forget

That the banks are now in the field, and trying to corrupt the public mind, and by that means get a Federal majority in the next Legislature, to give them more privileges to rob and plunder the many. They want all the restrictions taken away which the Democratic Legislature of last winter imposed upon them to keep the people from being any longer plundered.

As evidence

That the bankers are at their game read the article on our first page; look at Kirk Patrick and other pennined editors, (who although they never dared publish the banking law, or the redemption law) are now crying out against these wholesome restrictions on swindling—look at the hosts of bankers, such as Griswold, John C. Wright Simon Nash, Joseph Quid and others now on the stump pleading for votes.

Read the following,

You who have been swayed by the bursting of the Cleveland Banks;

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Harris of the Cleveland Herald, says he is authorized by Standard, Griffith & Co., to say that they will carry whigs to the Newark Convention, on their line of boats without charging a profit."

"We are authorized to say that Standard, Griffith & Co. now owe the defunct banks of this city FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS; and instead of devoting the profits of their business to party purposes, they had better pay their honest debts. It is by means of a few political cormorants, that these banks are now insolvent, and the honest bill-holders suffering a ruinous depreciation of their faithless promises to pay. The 'Co.' of this concern has not yet settled his indebtedness to the bank of Cleveland occasioned by the transportation of that brig to Columbus in the winter of 1840."

SUCH IS THE WAY,

citizens of Tuscarawas county, these banks and bankers have acted and will act again if you give them the power. Had it not been for the thousands and tens of thousands expended in the campaign of 1840 by Griswold's Canton Bank; German Bank of Wooster, Stokesley's Bank of Steubenville, Granville, Gallipolis, Urbana, West Union, &c. &c. you and your brother citizens of Ohio, would not have suffered as you have done by the bursting up of these banks.

THERE IS NO MISTAKE

But that the excitement now got up is the whole and sole result of a combination of bank-windlers, who want to live and roll in luxury, by cheating and defrauding the laboring part of the people out of their hard earnings.

THINK YOU

These Bank Lords would come down from their fine houses and talk to you now, if they had not a design of cheating and swindling, & preening and extorting from you the proceeds of your labor as they have done before? No, indeed they would not. Did you ever see them after election offering you their hands, or speaking to you on political No.

THEN BEWARE

How you trust them, for they are but creating an excitement to deceive you, and put you off your guard, while they lay their plans to bring upon you another suspension of specie payments, and the evils which follow—general burst up of Banks—worthless notes on your hands, Sheriff's writs against you, your property sacrificed, and your family and children turned out on the world.

BELIEVE IT NOT

When the Federal leaders tell you this: the Legislature was broken up; our government dissolved; to prevent Gerrymandering! Evidence has been given you clear as noon day that they determined last winter to resign at the extra session, and thus prevent the Democrats from carrying out their measures of Bank Reform, giving these banks which had been made honest, new charters. And also to prevent the passage of any laws to protect poor men from having their property sacrificed to satisfy the greedy maws of usurers, brokers, and bankers. Yes.

THE PROOF

Is on record that the conspirators had resolved in midnight conclaves long before the extra session met, that the Legislature should be broken up.

FRIENDS OF LAW

"And of order, of whatever party you may be; pause before you cast your vote for whigs—for men professing to be not only whigs but democratic whigs. We say, pause before you vote for men, who notwithstanding their profession of love to a democracy (which is a government of the majority) yet have openly avowed their determination to rule when in the minority, which is palpable aristocracy. The tendency of such a determination will lead to civil-war and bloodshed. Then put your condemnation upon it at the polls. Don't shoot but vote them down!"

IF YOUR JUDGMENT

"Tells you it is wrong to vote the whig ticket this year, because you think it would be sanctioning treason against a republican form of Government," let not Kirk Patrick or any of the Federal leaders of this county (who only want your votes to get the offices) "drive you from your resolution to vote the Democratic ticket. Many an honest whig has secretly determined to go against the traitorous leaders of his party, at least the present year! If they do so, they need not be afraid of their conscience upbraiding them for having done an act which will be cast up to them and their children after them, as will be the case if they vote the whig ticket!"

PAUSE AND REFLECT.

before you vote, on the fatal consequences that must ensue, if the overthrow of the majority by the minority, and the trampling under foot of the charter of our liberties, by that minority be justified at the polls. The monarchists of Europe say, "that the people are incapable of self government"—"that the few should rule the many;" and if the precedent set by the Federal minority be carried out, then will the truth of these Kingly dogmas be verified.

FRIENDS OF FREEDOM.

"Followers of Jefferson, friends of the illustrious Jackson! sons of revolutionary sires, will you surrender your independence which they have bequeathed you! Can you forget the blood and treasure poured out like water to achieve that precious legacy? Can you be insensible to the security guaranteed you by it, and do you not see the powerful efforts now making to wrest it from you! Then arouse."

RALLY TO THE POLLS

On Tuesday next, and express through the ballot box your indignation at the treacherous conduct of those who would betray the treasure they were sworn to guard!

THE MURPHY MEETING—WHIG JUSTICE.

The Holmes Co. Farmer after noticing at length the speech of Gen. Murphy at this place, thus shows up the conduct of a whig Justice in this town.

Several whigs, being running over with meanness—endeavored to break up the meeting by creating a Riot—calling Murphy a damned liar, and using like whig decency language! And when the Marshal of the borough put out the rioter—a whig justice, meener than federalism itself, bound over a Democrat, a member of the Millersburgh Band, for assisting to quell the riot and in this on the testimony of the Rioter himself, in opposition to the testimony of 3 respectable witnesses that he was not present in the affair!

The whigs of Tuscarawas will gain nothing by venting their spleen on citizens of Holmes county; and that old whig justice if he has any candor, will have to wrap it in a cloth and every night before he can sleep!

To the Democrats of New Philadelphia, Dover and Shesapeake the members of the Band tender their heartfelt acknowledgements for the kindness and hospitality tendered them while attending, going to and returning from the meeting.

COMMUNICATIONS.

For the Ohio Democrat.

MESSRS. EDITORS: This is the first time I take up my pen to write any communication whatever, and whig deception has led me to it. In 1832 I voted for Jackson, in 1836, I voted for Van Buren whom I knew was a Democrat of the Jeffersonian School. In 1840 I voted for Harrison supposing from the representation of the self-styled whigs, that he was of the same politics, and have acted with the whigs (or rather Federalists) ever since. During this time I have attended their celebrations, and some of their public meetings, as well as voted for their candidates. Having mingled with them long enough to learn their motives and principles, and seen the conduct of the whig officeholders and leaders at New Philadelphia, I am now satisfied that they are no other than the old Federal party in disguise, together with the rag and of all other factions which has disturbed the peace for more than fifty years past. They contend for no political principles, they are actuated by no better motives than disaffection to the country, its constitution and its laws. They find fault with every measure of the Government, right or wrong. They have combined for the purpose of destroying the credit of the United States and bringing the nation into disrepute both at home and abroad, just as the old Federalists did in the days of Mr. Jefferson. Their burning thirst after office drives them to every extreme and even to outrage. Look at their outrageous conduct in the late extra session of our State Legislature. I attended their great Corwin gathering in Dover, and heard Mason Tom Corwin attempt to justify the treasonable act. But it was a failure. He did not tell us that the Federal members held a caucus on the night of the 5th of August of which it is said Tom Corwin was Chairman. He did not tell you that the whig members wrote their resignations that same night. He did not tell you that he advised them to do it. He did not tell you that he belonged to the party that presented the petition to dissolve the Union. He did not tell you that he supported the party who moved to compensate the heirs of the traitor Hull, for his service in selling the Ohio and Michigan freemen to British allies. But suffice it to say, I have resolved to withdraw all connection from a party that would so disgrace themselves from their country and nation. My resolution has been strengthened by attending the Giraffe or Corwin spree at Dover, and now I trust to receive forgiveness from my democratic brethren for ever having voted the whig ticket.

Sept. 30, 1842.

For the Ohio Democrat.

MESSRS. EDITORS: It is amusing to see the Federal whigs running about electioneering; we have a certain whig in Wayne township that has run through every cow path in the hills to get all the German citizens to come up to Court, be naturalized and vote the whig ticket. He says, come vote the whig ticket, the Democrats have no man fit for Governor. This same whig holds two respectable offices, one of which is the post office. This Federal whig was a delegate to the State Convention two years ago which nominated Mason Tom Corwin for Governor. This same whig is supposed to be a Mason, and was sent to Columbus by two whigs who furnished him with $15 dollars to bear his expenses, and afterwards got up a subscription in order to refund themselves the money. This same whig makes his brags that he made ten whigs at the late Court. But he takes care not to tell or brag that he has a son in a neighboring county who paid some 20,000 dollars debts by taking the benefit of the Bankrupt act, at the late term of Common Pleas court in that county. It is supposed that this same old Federal will ere long trace his footsteps.

I have not time now to go into the details of this Federal; but will just mention that at the passage of the Bankrupt Law, I was shaken; at Adams's petition to dissolve the Union, I got a shove, and at the breaking up of the Legislature the ball came rolling over my way and crowded me into the Democratic ranks, where I hope to remain.

Sept. 27, 1842.

TOM CORWIN IN TROUBLE.

We were not present at the meeting referred to below, but we have seen several that were and all confirm the facts here stated by our worthy correspondent. The strolling Executive of Ohio fairly begged for quarters. His live coons, and stuffed turkey-buzzards, giraffes and kangaroos, will not answer instead of argument, when men are about.—That fact our strolling Executive has learned to his sorrow.—Statesman.

For the Ohio Statesman.

MEETING AT FINDLAY. HANCOCK COUNTY—GOV. CORWIN MET AND USED UP BY GOV. SHANNON—B. B. TAYLOR TRYING THE WAGON BOY FOR TREASON AND PERJURY BEFORE THE SOVEREIGN PEOPLE OF OHIO.

FINDLAY, Sept. 24th 1842.

DEAR MEDARY:

We have had a most glorious time for the cause of democracy. On arriving at this place this morning, and before the large and enthusiastic procession, which escorted Ex Governor Shannon into town, had arrived at the Hotel prepared for his reception, a challenge was handed to the democratic committee of arrangements, challenging Gov. Shannon, and B. B. Taylor of Licking, to meet them upon their stand. This you need not be told was accepted instantly, and arrangements immediately made, by which Gov. Corwin was to speak one hour and a half, Shannon to follow with two hours, and Corwin to follow with one half of an hour; their candidate for the Senate to occupy 50 minutes, and Hon. B. B. Taylor to close at pleasure. Corwin led off with avowal of his federal principles, and avowed himself in favor of his State Bank scheme, known as Nye's row and pigs; second, a United States Bank; and third, a high protective tariff.

Gov. Shannon replied in a speech of two hours, in which it seemed as if a superhuman being was showering down light and intelligence upon the people, it was said by all, to be one of the most powerful, clear and conclusive arguments ever made upon any occasion.

Corwin then attempted a reply, but wounded himself and skinned as this federal coon was he could not appeal to their understandings, but closed with a specimen of his buffoonery for which he is becoming so notorious in these diggings, after which General Sidney Sea, flattered himself out about fifteen minutes long, and asked six times in succession, "what shall we do?" And sat down much to the relief of his friends, (if he had any.)

Col. B. B. Taylor, then took the stand, and opened his mighty battery upon the treason and the traitors of the late General Assembly, in which he charged home the foul and damning deed upon the guilty head of his excellency, Gov. Corwin. He charged him in his teeth with a dereliction of official duty, which ought to subject him to impeachment at the hands of that very body, which he had, by his own disregard of the constitution, and by aiding others, destroyed. He held his Excellency up to the public eye, and to the popular indignation, in such glowing colours, so replete with facts, so true and so bold, that the people could not refrain from crying out loud, with the traitor! in the presence of this unworthy and convicted public servant. The shouts of the multitude, which by the way was about two thirds democratic, showed conclusively, that the people only wait for the second Tuesday of October next, to put their seal of condemnation on all the conspirators against our free institutions. By the way our worthy friend Taylor did not forget to remind Tom of that five dollars per day for traversing the State, to sustain treason and rebellion, in opposition to his professed principles in 1840, and of his pictures, his coon, his sea horse, &c. &c. During this scorching and withering speech, Gov. Corwin sat with his head in agony, and blushing for shame, for himself, and sneaking cause; and his friends seeing him driven to the wall, began to matter about their pretty buckeye stand, which they had put up, and fearing to let their dear coons have any more truth, complained that Mr. Taylor was taking the advantage of them. Mr. T. observed that "if the people did not wish to hear him he certainly would not proceed," when there was a general and loud cry of "go on," "go on." Then said he "I will go on," and the way the coons caught it for the space of about 3 hours was a caution to traitors.

After Mr. Taylor had closed, Gov. Corwin attempted something of an excuse, or a kind of "ask your pardon sir," for the part he took in the treason. He defended himself against the charge of perjury; admitted he was sorry the precedent had been set in Ohio, but justified the conduct of the traitors; admitted he had the letters of the recusant members in his office, notifying him of their resignation when he addressed his letters to the Speaker of the two Houses, and in a subdued manner, and evidently feeling himself used up by Gov. Shannon and Mr. Taylor, he sat down a used up man, and Mr. T. commenced another castigation, when Corwin's friends took him out and called off their coons, it being yet only about 8 o'clock in the evening, and the meeting adjourned to the Court House for the evening discussion. Thus, by retreating and leaving the meeting, they acknowledged their defeat, and retreated in disgrace.

In haste, yours &c.
"JUNIOR."

More proof.

Is daily coming to light of the long settled determination of the run-aways to prevent any thing being done at the extra session. We have just received a communication from a friend in Tuscarawas county, stating that in the streets of New Philadelphia, at the last June term of Court there he heard Josiah Scott, the run-away, represent and say, (after some conversation upon Latham's Bank law—after he had denounced it in no measured terms, and after he had measured out abundant epithets upon the majority, and claiming for himself and friends a considerable share of political honesty, &c.) that he was not sure there would be an extra session of the Legislature—He was not certain he would be there, &c.

What is the imports of all this? Does it not smack most undeniably of a pre-concerted plan to break up or prevent an extra session of the Legislature? Aside from the open confession of Mr. Clark one of the run-aways from Clarion county, who does not recollect the threat of the Federal members, during the winter session that if the democrats persisted in holding an extra session they might find themselves without a quorum—that they (the whig members) could or would stay at home for this purpose, &c.

The Statesman at that time, sounded the alarm and predicted the fatal consequences which would result, from such a course, to the guilty perpetrators of such a nefarious act. To the vigilance of the Statesman we believe may be attributed the abandonment of their first resolve of staying away to prevent a quorum. But from the disclosures made in the streets of New Philadelphia, by Josiah Scott, it would seem that so late as in June last, they had not entirely agreed to give up their first design. (He Josiah Scott) was not certain that there would be an extra session!—"was not certain that he would be there." From these givings out by our Representative, and the declaration made by our Senator, Mr. Dewey, before going to Columbus, that the state would not be distracted at the extra session, it is clear as the noonday sun, that treason against the state government, was brewing in their guilty souls as long ago as last winter.—Castiz Sentinel.

FOURTEEN THOUSAND DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY IN MAINE!!!

Yes, 14,000 majority in glorious Maine, for Fairfield! Two years ago, Maine voted for Harrison—now 14,000 Democratic majority. Boys of Ohio, do you hear that! If you do hear, why then skin that same old coon! That's all.

From the Boston Post. MAINE ELECTION.

Since we last made up our table, we have received returns from 21 towns in Piscataquis county, 6 in Hancock. 1 in York, 2 in Aroostook, and 7 in Franklin, 37 in all, making the number of towns now heard from 234. In these towns Mr. Fairfield leads the whig candidate TEN THOUSAND SIX HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FOUR VOTES—a gain over his last year's majority of Three Thousand and Two Hundred and Seventy-Nine Votes! The towns to be heard from, in 1841, gave Fairfield, over Kent, 3,210 majority, in the State, over the whig candidate, this year, will probably exceed FOURTEEN THOUSAND.

ORIGINAL JACKSON MEN.

This class of men in Ohio and those whom they carried with them on the last presidential election were not less in number than forty thousand. It might be a matter of curious inquiry, how many of them since that period have been nominated or elected members of Congress or members of the Legislature from all the whig districts in the State. Beyond all doubt, without the aid of this class of men, the whigs always were and always will be in the minority. We warn them that the original Jackson men of Ohio who supported also another old Soldier for the presidency are too numerous, too influential, and too independent to be disregarded with impunity. Such uniform neglect has driven off many and will ultimately separate them all from the federal whigs. They are strong enough if they wish it, to rally under their own banner. But their natural affinity is with the democracy of the country, and the democracy is with them.—Old School Rep.

"COME OUT FROM AMONG THE FOUL PARTY!"

A friend, in sending us the proceedings of Lake county, which will be found in another column, says, "You will see by the proceedings, that Silas Axtell, Esq., the late whig Representative from this county, has broke loose from the thraldom of whiggery, and now gives his influence in favor of democracy." We recollect Mr. Axtell well, while a member of the Legislature. He was one of the most intelligent and worthy members of the whig party, and was universally esteemed. We hail his accession to our cause with the greatest satisfaction; and his example must produce the happiest effect, particularly on the Western Reserve.

[Statesman.]

MARK IT,

That when you vote, it is for, or against, free constitutional government. If you sustain the traitors, your government is dissolved. Mark that.—ib.

KEEP IT ON EVERY LIP.

That the great issue made by the perjured traitors themselves, is GOVERNMENT or NO GOVERNMENT. Let the traitors strike death blow to liberty, and anarchy reigns triumphant.—ib.

FREEMEN OF OHIO,

Beware of traitors—bold, reckless, daring traitors! They are in your midst. The constitution of Ohio lies bleeding at their feet—rally to the polls and rescue it from their ignominious tread. Ib.

FREEMEN, POOR MEN, REPUBLICANS,

When you go to the polls, remember that in Rhode Island, where whiggery is in the ascendant, the poor man has been driven from the polls by the bayonet, and refused a vote. Poor working men of Ohio, cast your votes with the democratic party, whose principles are free suffrage and equality of rights. Ib.

MARK THE FACT,

That not a whig paper dare deny, or even apologize, for the base story of a whig Congress in refusing to pay back Gen. Jackson's fine levied by a Tory Judge, or explain their British movement in paying Hull and the Massachusetts militia for their treason. Freemen, to the polls, and rebuke such daring traitors. Ib.

REMEMBER,

That the great whig Congress voted six thousand dollars to make the President's House even comfortable for the log cabin President; but, before his election, these truth telling patriots said it was a palace with gold plate, &c., &c. Keep these things in mind. Ib.

DO NOT FORGET,

That the economical whig Congress refused to pay General Jackson $1000, taken from him by a Tory judge, but gave to Mrs. Harrison $25,000, for nothing at all, just by way of preserving the constitution and relieving the people! Such men would pay General Hull for his treason, of course.

WHO FOR GOVERNMENT? WHO FOR ANARCHY?

He who votes the democratic ticket, votes to sustain the constitution and laws. He who votes the whig ticket, votes to sustain the ab-squators, and the prostration of the constitution and all law. Beware before you strike the death blow at your government. The 11th day of October divides the traitors from the defenders of law and order. Ib.

LOOK OUT FOR FRAUD.

We have the daily rumors that some infamous frauds and shameless tricks are on foot, by the mad and reckless violators of law, to be sprung upon the people at the polls. Look out! Keep watch! Ib.

DON'T FORGET,

That the great bee for skinning coons takes place on next Tuesday. All are invited. Ib.

REMEMBER,

That great issue, Government, or, No Government. That is the issue, and every man will define his position on the 11th of October. After that day we shall have no trouble in marking the traitors and enemies to constitutional government.—ib.

LET IT BE KNOWN,

To all your neighbors, that if the late treason and perjury committed by the whigs at your capital are sustained at the polls, your Constitution is destroyed and liberty is but a name. Ib.

THE WORD IS,

And let it ring through the land, that the Constitution of Ohio is to be restored to its former pre-eminence on the 11th day of October, 1842. It now lies bleeding at the feet of traitors. Freemen, to duty!

TELL IT TO EVERY MAN YOU MEET

That the whigs after committing perjury and treason against the State, and abetting a usurper from the Capital, now refuse to submit to that issue before the people, but talk about hard money and soft money!

The whigs who passed through this city to Dayton, were as gently and fashionably dressed as any one hundred gentlemen to be met with in the towns and cities of the State. A whig in conversation yesterday with a brother whig, expressed great astonishment that the farmers took so little interest in whig meetings. He thought it very curious that the farmers did not go to Dayton.

Old School Rep.

Let us all go to the coon skinning on the 11th day of next October!
